Brovary, Kyiv region, Ukraine

Student at UNIT Factory (school 42). After year of hard studying I decided to use an obtained knowledge. I'm looking forward to gain experience in a creative and interesting way. Seeking for the opportunities as a junior C++ developer and open to any offers.

EXPERIENCE

UNIT Factory 2017 - present Software Developer

- I already have 1700 hours of non-commercial programming experience on educational projects C/C++.
- This school made me fearless to a new technologies.
- I understood how to learn fast and search the relevant information. Because I had no other options, if I want to be successful at UNIT.

BroBots - Brovary IT Hub 03.2018 - present Mentoring on course CS50 for kids

- My goal is to help children (12-14 y.o.) go through this difficult course.
- I learned to explain complex things in simple words.
- I like work with kids and really want to continue do this stuff, because it's make myself better.

EDUCATION

UNIT Factory Sep 2017 - present Software Developer

Ukraine's only educational institution that works by innovative standards of French School "42". Here you can learn how to code, enhance your team working skills and advance your creativity by looking for unique solutions. We don't have teachers, work-books or lectures. Your academic degree or your grades are not taken into account during the application. Everything depends only on your abilities and motivation. And the education is completely free for all students.
